Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 18 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry and mild, with sunny spells.

Today:
A dry day for all, with plenty of hazy sunshine in the north. Cloudier conditions further south, though bright spells will form at times. Feeling warm in any sunshine and turning breezy by the coast. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloud moves into all areas through the evening and winds continue to strengthen. Drizzle or light rain across the Pennines overnight, occasionally spreading elsewhere during the early hours. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Friday:
A gloomy start, with low cloud and some drizzle. Staying cloudy, but turning drier and brighter near the coast. Warmest in the west but cool for many. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Often cloudy this weekend, with some brighter spells and mostly light winds. A little light rain or drizzle at times, but mainly dry. Similar conditions on Monday, turning breezy later.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.